Third: The terms and conditions of the merger are as follows:

Transferor, DRL Corporation, an Illinois corporation, and DRL Corporation, a Florida corporation have been approved by all shareholders to merge pursuant to 607.1101 of the Florida Business Corporation Act and IRC Section 368(a)(1)(F). The surviving corporation, DRL Corporation, a Florida corporation will contain the same assets and liabilities, if any, of the transferor. All outstanding and authorized shares of transferor are converted and merged into shares of the surviving corporation.

Fourth: The manner and basis of converting the shares of each corporation into shares, obligations, or other securities of the surviving corporation or any other corporation or, in whole or in part, into cash or other property and the manner and basis of converting rights to acquire shares of each corporation into rights to acquire shares, obligations, or other securities of the surviving or any other corporation or, in whole or in part, into cash or other property are as follows:

(Attach additional sheets if necessary)

DRL-CD Plan of Merger

Fourth:

The issued common shares of the transferor (non-surviving) corporation will be cancelled, as all issued shares of the two entities participating in the merger are owned by the same individuals in identical proportions.

All the authorized, outstanding and issued shares of the transferor corporation are converted and merged to the surviving corporation. Immediately after the transfer the transferor corporation and shareholders immediately before the transfer are in control of the surviving corporation and its assets. The merger into the surviving corporation is reorganization for the purpose of a location change. The surviving corporation will use the existing federal tax identification number after the corporate merger, and the corporation continues as an S-corporation.
