EFFECTS OF FORECLOSURE OR CHARGING ORDER ON STOCK

As long as the Corporation has more than one shareholder, the remedy of foreclosure or charging order on a judgment debtor's interest in the Corporation or against rights to distribution or dividends from the Corporation is not available, and if any attempt to foreclose on a shareholder's interest is successful, and the creditor is not a shareholder of the Corporation or a party controlled or under the direction of a shareholder of the Corporation, the Corporation shall immediately purchase the foreclosed interest, and the purchase price shall be $1.00. If any attempt to enforce a charging order is successful, and the creditor is not a shareholder of the Corporation or a party controlled or under the direction of a shareholder of the Corporation, the Corporation shall no longer issue distributions of profits or losses to the shareholder effected by such an order, until the effect of such an order is removed. Such distributions of profit and losses which would normally be issued to such shareholder effected by a charging order, but are withheld, shall be distributed to the remaining shareholders on a pro rata basis. Nothing in this section should be construed to reduce shareholder's debtor rights under the law.

Newly created directorships resulting from any increase in the authorized number of Directors or any vacancies in the Board of Directors resulting from death, resignation, retirement, disqualification, removal from office, or other cause will be filled by a majority vote of the remaining Directors, though less than a quorum. These interim Directors will hold office for a term that expires at the next annual or special meeting of shareholders, at which time the shareholders will elect the successors.
