ARTICLE III PURPOSE

The purpose for which the corporation is organized is:

This attachment is made with ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION

In compliance with Chapter 607 and/or Chapter 621, F.S. (Profit)

The purpose for which the corporation is organized are:

IN GOOD FAITH AND TRUSTED DEED, The purpose of the corporation is to engage in contracting, entering into agreements, contracting for sale, and selling goods in accordance with the provisions outlined in Section 2 of the Uniform Commercial Code (UCC). The corporation shall conduct its operations with the objective of facilitating fair and efficient commercial transactions, promoting uniformity in trade practices, and protecting the rights and interests of both buyers and sellers. Specifically, the corporation aims to: 1. Formulate and negotiate contracts: The corporation will actively engage in the creation and negotiation of contracts for the sale of goods, adhering to the principles and requirements set forth in Section 2 of the UCC.

IN GOOD FAITH AND TRUSTED DEED, The purpose of the corporation is to operate in compliance with the rules and regulations governing negotiable instruments as prescribed by the state of Florida and Section 3 of the Uniform Commercial Code (UCC). The corporation shall engage in activities related to negotiable instruments while upholding the highest standards of legal and ethical conduct. Specifically, the corporation aims to: 1. Understand and apply Florida's rules on negotiable instruments: The corporation will familiarize itself with the laws and regulations established by the state of Florida concerning negotiable instruments. It will ensure a comprehensive understanding of the Florida Uniform Commercial Code, specifically Section 3, which governs negotiable instruments such as promissory notes, checks, and drafts. 2. Create and handle negotiable instruments in accordance with the law: The corporation will skillfully draft, endorse, negotiate, and transfer negotiable instruments, adhering to the specific requirements set forth in both Florida's regulations and Section 3 of the UCC. It will ensure that all negotiable instruments created or handled by the corporation meet the legal criteria for negotiability and retain their characteristics as defined by the applicable laws. 3. Safeguard the integrity and enforceability of negotiable instruments: The corporation will implement robust internal controls and procedures to protect the integrity and enforceability of negotiable instruments. It will establish appropriate systems for recording, tracking, and preserving negotiable instruments, ensuring their security and preventing unauthorized alterations, forgeries, or fraudulent activities. 4. Educate stakeholders on negotiable instruments: The corporation will provide education and training to its employees, customers, and relevant stakeholders regarding negotiable instruments and their legal implications. It will strive to promote a comprehensive understanding of the rights, obligations, and legal consequences associated with negotiable instruments, thereby facilitating informed decision-making and reducing the risk of disputes or misunderstandings. 5. Stay updated on regulatory changes and legal developments: The corporation will actively monitor any updates, amendments, or revisions to Florida's rules on negotiable instruments and Section 3 of the UCC. It will adapt its practices, policies, and internal controls to ensure ongoing compliance with the latest legal requirements, industry standards, and best practices. By adhering to Florida's rules on negotiable instruments and Section 3 of the UCC, the corporation's purpose is to engage in activities involving negotiable instruments in a lawful and responsible manner. It strives to protect the rights of all parties involved, maintain the integrity of negotiable instruments, and contribute to a secure and reliable financial environment.
