RE: Darendas Cards and Gifts, Inc.
P93000078115

May 3, 2006

Dear Sir or Madam:

Our office has recently been hired to do the accounting and bookkeeping for the above named corporation. In reviewing their previous records it has come to our attention that their annual business report has not been filed in 6 years. Their prior accountant was suppose to have filed this and paid all fees associated with this. However, this accountant was in jail for over a year and has lost his license as result of this. We finally received all of the prior records and are discovering that much has not been done or done incorrectly. We are in the process of getting everything caught up and corrected. Mrs. Patrick believed that everything had been done to keep her corporation active since she had paid for these services. The address on the annual report is incorrect and therefore Mrs. Patrick never received any notices concerning her corporation not being active.

Please accept the enclosed check for $900.00 for the 6 years of annual fees and please abate all penalties. I am enclosing an annual report to show the correct information concerning the corporation. We believe that Mrs. Patrick has been a victim of a dishonest Accountant and that she should not be penalized as a result of this person's failure to do his job.

Thank you for your help in resolving this matter. Please contact me if you need any additional information or have any questions concerning this matter.

Sincerely,

Judy M Bailey, EA
President
