Dear Sir or Madam:

When I received this "Second Notice" I searched all of our records to find any evidence of having received the "First Notice". I can not find anything that makes me believe I got the first one.

In looking at the mailing information on this package (Attached), I can see where there may be a problem. Our office is located in a bank building which has 20 or more tenants. We all have experienced trouble with our mail and at least weekly, I carry mail to another suite or have a tenant bring mail to our suite. Those types of mix-ups are frequent and unfortunate but we all work with the situation.

Our company operates under a fictitious name of AAA Business Brokers. Every one in the building knows us and I believe we get most, if not all, of the mail addressed to AAA Business Brokers. This report is addressed to Eatwise, Inc. and honestly no one in the building ever comes in contact with the corporate name.

I contacted your office by phone and spoke to Debbie. She indicated that I should send this letter to request a waiver of the late fee. Of course I would appreciate that. I am most interested in fixing the mailing information so that this never happens again. I discussed with Debbie and looked at the mailing address block 2a to see if there is any way to incorporate our fictitious name into the mailing address. I don't see any logical way to do this. If you have any suggestions that would help, I would appreciate it. I will mark these dates in my calendar so that I will never miss the deadline again but I am concerned that the current address information is an accident waiting to happen.

Thank you in advance for your cooperation in this matter.

Sincerely,

John W. Hoyt, Jr.

President
