RE: B&D Resources, Inc.

Dear Ms. Milligan:

Thank you for taking the time to talk to me today and to help me wade through the paperwork involved in reinstating my corporation. Enclosed please find my company's check in the amount of $400.00 in addition to the Application For Reinstatement, which will be used as a report.

To summarize the events leading to this moment, I failed to timely file my renewal notice due to "corporate confusion" as described in the attached letter. When I did file my late renewal notice I received a notice letter from you stating that I needed to pay an additional $400.00 late fee. I telephoned the Division of Corporations and was advised by an employee at the main number to send in a letter asking that the late fee be waived. That was done on August 28, 2001. A copy of that letter is enclosed for your review. Several weeks later I received a notice of dissolution. Thinking that the dissolution notice had crossed with my appeal letter I did nothing. In a subsequent telephone call to a member of your office I learned that the Division of Corporations had no record of receiving my appeal letter. That brings us to this moment.

Having just spoken to you on the telephone I am writing this letter in the hope that you will accept my check for $400.00 as late payment without my corporation incurring any additional fees or having to go through the reinstatement process. I will look forward to your reply. Of course, if you have any questions please don't hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Jim Key
