11. The court held that the proposed order was not a "substantial" change in the terms of the contract. The alteration of the compensation schedule to the detriment of the employee for the purpose of changing the registered office of the company was not a "substantial" change in the terms of the contract. Since the company was not a party to the contract, the responsibility for the decision to change the registered office of the company was not the responsibility of the company. The court held that the proposed order was not a "substantial" change in the terms of the contract.
