Dear State of Florida:

I was not aware my Corporation was dissolved according to the State of Florida until my insurance company notified me.

My husband died of a sudden heart attack eight months after we began our business on a full time basis. Our business was to renovate and sell properties to people who did not know how to become a homeowner. We did only hard deals so it was not an easy business.

I have had bad eyesight for fifteen years and when my husband died this made running the business even more difficult.

I had to make a decision - to go on welfare or develop the business. I chose to continue and my son decided to help me with the construction part of the business.

We almost went bankrupt twice in learning the business. At the time the filing fee was to be mailed I had just hired a secretary and for whatever the reason the filing bill was misplaced and I was unaware of it.

I pay all my taxes, do the houses to city code and try to provide the community with good/ homes.

Life Is For Everyone
