August 6, 1998

Dear Sirs or Mesdames,

Enclosed please find my filing for the 1998 fiscal year, I apologize for its delinquency. As I explained to the women I spoke with at your 800 number, I never received the first notice and was unaware that a second notice had been sent until my daughter found it in her estranged husband's personal belongings. My soon to be ex son-in-law seems to have deliberately made an effort to disrupt my business dealings by destroying, or hiding my important papers.

Due to the above circumstances I would like to beg your indulgence, and ask that the fee of 550.00 be waived and that the usual payment of 165.00 for annual renewal (which I have enclosed) be accepted. I have no intention of dissolving the corporation voluntarily and any involuntary dissolution would only add to an already stressful situation. I trust this letter and the enclosed filing will prevent such action. Again I thank you for your indulgence in this matter.

Sincerely,

Florence Green
