Dear Sirs:

I am enclosing the $150 fee for yearly instatement for a corporation. This past year our Attorney of Record, Timothy L Whalen, left the firm and has passed away. We did not notice that we had not sent in our registration as this was always taken care of by our attorney's office. We also noticed that our address is incorrect (we know that the last filing had our corrected address on it).

To compound matters this past fall I had a heart attack and underwent a double by-pass with complications. The operation took place the end of October and I did not regain consciousness until a few days before Thanksgiving. My wife and partner spent most of that time in the hospital with me and many business actions did not take place.

As retailers -- the period from Thanksgiving to New Years is the most busy and with me being unable to lift or stand well, the burden of the season fell on my wife. Many things did not get done on time, not because we were lax but because we were struggling to get through the days one at a time.

Going into our seventh year of business with no other problems in our fillings we would appreciate the consideration of a favorable review of our status and standing.

Thank you,

David and Kathryn Tibbetts
