The book value shall be determined by the certified public accountant then servicing the corporation, ascertaining the assets and liabilities of the corporation as of the end of the month during which the written offer of the shareholder shall have been made in accordance with the generally accepted accounting principals, except that good will and other intangible property shall be deemed of no value and shall be excluded and not considered. The accountant shall determine the net assets by subtracting the liabilities from the assets and shall divide the net assets by the number of common shares issued and outstanding to arrive at the value of each common share. If no election is made, either by the corporation or by any of the other shareholders to purchase the offered stock, the withdrawing shareholder shall be free to dispose of their stock without regard to the terms of this Article, provided, however, that the sale of such stock not be made at any lower price than that at which it was offered to the corporation originally and provided further that the sale of stock shall not be made later than 120 days after the stock was offered to the corporation or other shareholders as set forth herein.

All stock issued by the corporation shall have a reference upon the certificate of stock as follows: "NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the sale, assignment, transfer, pledge, or other disposition of the shares of capital stock represented by this certificate are subject to restrictions upon transfer as set forth in the Articles of Incorporation of this corporation, a copy of said Articles being on file in the office of the Secretary of the corporation and the Office of
