by the π -meson. The order of the differential cross section $d\sigma/d\Omega$ is approximately constant with Ω . Indeed, for π -mesons the differential cross section $d\sigma/d\Omega$ is nearly independent of Ω . In the case of π -mesons, the angular distribution is very nearly isotropic, which is usually taken as evidence that the π -meson is a spinless particle. The angular distribution of the π -mesons is also isotropic and independent of the angle of the π -meson in the π - π collision. This is also evidence that the π -meson is a spinless particle.
