To Whom It May Concern,

Apparently there seems to be a little confusion, and mostly on my part. I started my company last year and I'm very new to the system. The one thing I'm great at is responding to all matters concerning "Got-A-Lite". My product is just about ready to go and I received this letter from your office stating that you sent a notice sometime in September of 1997 reminding me that renewal fees are due.

To date, that reminder has not been received. When I called your office, I was abruptly told to "...take it up with the Post Office." Something does not make sense. Why wouldn't I pay $165.00 to renew verses $750.00 to reinstate? So, I called your office back and talked to a rather pleasant women who told me to write this letter explaining the situation and maybe someone would review my problem. I could use a little help, please.

Also, in filling out my form I noticed that the zip codes are wrong. I really don't have the extra $750.00 right now and I promise not to let it happen again, but I really did not receive your reminder. I appreciate any help you can give me at this time. Enclosed is my check for $165.00. I hope you will accept it as payment in full.

Thank you,

Joseph M. De Noia
