ARTICLE XV TRANSFER OF STOCK

No shareholder may sell, transfer, pledge, assign or otherwise in anyway dispose of or encumber any of the shares of the capital stock of the corporation owned by such shareholders, except in accordance with the following procedures, limitations and restrictions:

option to purchase all, but not less than all, of the shareholder's stock, which is the subject of the bonafide offer. If the offer to sell is rejected, or is not accepted by the corporation within thirty (30) days after the corporation receives written notice from the shareholder of his desire to sell, then any existing shareholder shall have an additional fifteen (15) days after the corporation's express or implied rejection in which to purchase the offered stock. If neither the corporation nor any existing shareholder purchases said stock, then the offering shareholder may dispose of his stock free of restriction; provided, that the stock may not be sold for any lesser amount than stated above without first complying in full with the terms of this paragraph.

B. In the event any shareholder wishes to dispose of his stock in the corporation during his lifetime and does not have a bonafide offer to purchase, the shareholder shall give written notice of his desire to sell and the corporation shall have the first option to purchase such stock at the same price as is stated in paragraph A above. If the corporation rejects such an offer or fails to accept same within thirty (30) days after receipt of shareholder's written notice of his desire to sell, then any existing shareholder shall have an additional fifteen (15) days after the corporation's express or implied rejection, in which to purchase the offered stock.
