To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing this letter in an attempt to explain to you why my Corporate Annual Report for 1998 is late, and to ask for a special exemption from having to pay the late filing fee penalty.

As I explained during my phone call of June 3, 1998 to the nice lady at your 488-9000 number...I did move at the end of 1997, but have had no problems receiving forwarded mail. I did not receive the form that she said was mailed out in January, nor did I receive the reminder letter that was mailed in April. I have no doubt that you mailed them. I am simply stating that I never received them. I would have absolutely no reason to avoid paying my Corporation renewal on time. In fact, had I not been looking at my corporate checkbook to find a particular paid expense for 1997, I would never have discovered the 1997 payment for my Corporation Annual Report and would still be quite oblivious to the fact that I needed to renew.

As soon as I realized my dilemma, I phoned your offices and requested that an annual report form be sent to my home address. I am asking you not to hold this against me, since it was certainly not intentional, nor do I feel that ignorance is an issue. I simply never received the form or the reminder.

Please accept my corporation check for $150 in satisfaction of my required annual renewal. Thank you for your kind consideration of my request.

Sincerely,

John R. Elliott
President
