Dear Sir or Madam,

As per a phone conversation with one of your representatives, I am writing a letter with my check less the late fee (per instructions from the representative) to explain my situation and PLEAD for forgiveness.

I received the early filing form and saw the amount of charges for late fees and was VERY concerned about getting it right in. I know that I completed the form because I had a question about the registered agent and had to call my accountant to ask her advice. My agent is my cousin who is an attorney and had filed this for us free of charge. I hated to have to ask him to do this every year and felt badly about it. She told me that I could be the registered agent and I completed it that way. I KNOW I did all this. I must have sent it in without a check, however, because I have looked through my register and I can't find a check that I had written. This is my first time running a business. I am just a normal mom with 4 children, one still very small, and to be honest all the paperwork involved has been overwhelming to me. We are very low in funds and an extra $400 would be devastating. Is there any grace for first-timers? I'm hoping. I know I filled out the form and I was sooo concerned about getting it in right away. I just don't know if I forgot the check or forgot to mail it or what I did. Begging for forgiveness and promising never to do it again!!!!!! Can you help?

Sincerely,

Rebecca Chartrand
