Attention: Dave Mann

Dear Mr. Mann:

The office of Representative Tom Feeney contacted your office on our behalf and directed us to send you this letter with regard to our Annual Report filing.

We inadvertently filed late after having received a second notice, having received neither a first notice nor a filing packet. This may in part be due to the fact that since our last filing we purchased the property at which we are now located and therefore changed our address. We understand that the notices are a courtesy. They do serve, however, as a necessary reminder to relatively new corporations such as ours which may in error overlook the filing of certain documents due to lack of experience. We also were in transition between attorneys, and this is also in part responsible for our failure to file on time.

We did file immediately upon receipt of the notice and remitted the filing fee. A copy of the money order is enclosed. It was suggested at the time that we not send the late fee until our case had been reviewed.

We have now been apprised by Representative Feeney's office that the late fee will be waived. However, we sent the Annual Report and the filing fee in the second notice envelope, which we understand may be returned due to the fact that the late fee was not enclosed. That is why we were asked to send this letter.

We appreciate the Division of Corporations' willingness to waive the late fee, and also thank you in advance for your efforts to dispose of this matter. Please inform us of any further action we need to take.

Sincerely,

Julie K. Balassa
