Over the past 6 months, my family and I have been dealing with a serious disease that has affected my business. My father has alzheimer disease, during this time my father has threaten to burn my parents house down, shoot and kill my mother , my brother and his family. I've been traveling-back and forth to California helping my family cope with this problem. Fortunately there was one person my father would listen to, the person was I. I've been able to get him proper medication and agree to go to a home which would be able to give him proper treatment. What I'm getting to is that I genuinly thought that this form was completed and sent to you be fore the May deadline(I even have a check # that was written in my check register). I just recently got back from California the 9th of this month and in my files for bills to be sent out I came across the UBR , I called and spoke to one of your employees to check and see if this was a mistake because I had sent it out in May and he told me that you had not received this report from my company. What I'm asking for is that you please waive this late fee of $400.00. I assumed this was all taken care of in May but because of my family difficuties I did not follow up on why the check I sent had not cleared and why a 2nd notice for the UBR was sent.

Thank You for Your Understanding
Sincerely,

Gregory Travis
