The affirmative vote of a majority of directors is required to constitute any act or decision rendered by the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE X - CUMULATIVE VOTING

The principal of cumulative voting shall apply in all elections of directors of the corporation. Each shareholder entitled to vote shall have votes equal to the number of shares with voting rights held by him or her, multiplied by the number of directors to be elected, and each may cast all his or her votes for a single candidate, or may divide and distribute his or her votes for a single candidate, or may divide and distribute his or her votes among any two or more candidates, as he or she may see fit. Each shareholder may, if desired, cast fewer than all the votes to which he or she is entitled at an election of directors, but no ballot shall be valid if the total votes shown on it are in excess of the total number of votes to which the shareholder casting such ballot is entitled.

At any such election, the candidates receiving the highest number of votes, up to the number of directors to be chosen shall be elected, and an absolute majority of the votes cast is not a prerequisite to the election of any candidate to the Board of Directors.

At any meeting of shareholders called expressly for that purpose, any director or directors may be removed from office, with or without cause, by majority vote, except that if less than all
