Dear Staff:

I am writing to clarify why I did not file my 1999 Profit Corporation Annual Report in the time frame of the first notice.

This is the second year I have not receive the First Notice but I have receive the Second Notice. Last year, I discussed this with my accountant and she reported that her office did not receive the first notice but that I should have. At that time, she wrote to your office and we were allowed to pay the original fee.

This year, I called your office after receiving the second notice and was told to pay the original fee and submit a letter of explanation, which is what I have done. Once again my accountant did not receive the first notice.

Thus I have enclosed a check for the original fee and hope this will be acceptable. I remain concerned about what happens to the first notice as my mailing address continues to be the same. Hopefully next year this office will receive the first notice and save your office the inconvenience of sending out a second notice.

Sincerely,

W. J. Richey and Associates, PA
