Dear Division of Corporations:

I am in receipt of your letter from July 23, 1998 (Copy attached). I intended to handle this sooner, however, I've had some health problems and have been in the hospital having a pacemaker installed.

I have a new corporation. The first notice I received from you said that I was past due and owed $550 rather than $150. I called your office. The lady I spoke to said to write a letter of explanation and send the check for $150, which I did. Some time passed and you sent me back my check and told me that I owed the $550.

Yesterday I called 850-488-9000. I explained the situation to the lady on the phone. She said it probably went to the wrong office and to send a new letter to this office to be excused from the penalty. That sounded great except that I notice at the bottom of the letter I received from you, the same address that she gave me. I'm confused?

$400 is a lot of money to me. It doesn't seem fair that I did not receive a first notice and I should have to be paying a penalty because of it. I realize that taxpayers should know their due dates and I will certainly have them noted in the future so I will not be totally dependent on getting a notice through the mail from you.

I also notice in the letter that I am to send this report to PO Box 1500. I am trusting my conversation with the lady 800-488-9000 and am sending the report, a new check for $150 and a copy of the letter of July 23rd.

I would appreciate a call from someone so that I do not get in anymore hot water. Hopefully you will consider excusing this penalty.

Very truly yours,

Eugene L. Spinadel
