To Whom It May Concern:

I contacted your office today to inquire about the filing fees for the Uniform Business Report. I had explained that our company is very seasonal and operates October through the first couple of days in January. Accordingly the books are given to our accountant for year-end filings and we do not have any other activity until the fall. Our company is relatively new and we did make the first two filings on time. This late filing was an oversight and we apologize. Until we reviewed our documentation for the fall season did I realize that this filing was delinquent. My partner has to travel in his other business a lot and the mail is sometimes tardy. I have changed the mailing address on the UBR form so this will not be a problem again.

Based on the above, I was advised to write this letter asking your indulgence for this time only and send in the lesser amount of $150.00. It was made very clear that our request for relief of the late filing fee may be turned down and that we would be notified of the remaining amount due for this time period. At worst case, I was advised there would be no additional penalties due.

Our company is very small and the penalty fee is significant to our cash flow.

Thank you for your attention in this matter and I hope you will allow us this one mistake and accept the fee enclosed.

Sincerely

W. Edward Tarr, Sr., Director
