Madame Secretary:

We received the 2002 Uniform Business Report in Monday's Mail, and I was shocked to see that we might be fined $600.00 reinstatement fee if form is filed by Sept. 13th.

This is the first we have heard of the form since we believe we paid the fee last year. Surely, with computers, can't the state send a notice for first filing date instead of arbitrarily setting such as high fee for late filing.

We are a small and relatively new family business. I am the only employee and I work on zero salary. We have not made a profit since the corporation was formed several years ago.

If we have to pay $600.00 it would be a hardship for the company and me, at age 81 and still working.

We do pay all taxes due to the State of Florida and to the IRS on time, and would appreciate some consideration from your office.

1. Please accept our filing per the enclosed forms filled out in full.
2. Isn't there any way to receive notice by mail or fax or e mail in the future so we are never late in filing?

Thanks for your consideration.

Sincerely, Fred Kroll, President
