To Whom This May Concern:

This letter is in reference to our Corporation, formed November 6, 1997, under the name of Impression Management, Inc. Document Number: P97000095499.

As the Secretary of the corporation, it has been brought to my attention that I have made an error in understanding deadlines for filing our annual report with your office. There were two reasons for my error, please allow me to explain.

First, when speaking with your office, I obviously misunderstood the deadline for filing an annual report. My understanding was that because we were not incorporated for a full year, that we were to file for 1998. It was not until we received notice of administrative dissolution or revocation of our corporation that I realized my misunderstanding. Which brings me to the second reason.

Over the course of the year for 1998, our mail has been consistently stolen. We had to ask our clients to FedEx our checks because they were not being delivered. Your office said that other notices were sent out, which we never received. I believe those notices were stolen with the other mail that was not delivered. I received the enclosed notice when returning to the office, January 7, 1999.

Please do not take these as excuses, but explanation as to why we did not send the appropriate form and check for the report. I have enclosed a check for the original amount for the filing. Please accept this as my apology and know that I will file appropriate papers for 1998.

I thank you in advance for help with this matter. If you need to contact me, you can reach me at 305.466.9901x1.

Sincerely,

Thank you,
Kathryn J. Mulling
