To Whom it May Concern:

Last April of 1999, we sent in our renewal for our corporation along with a check of 150.00 to cover the renewal. We had never received original forms so requested from you a blank so that we could file. On this renewal we stated that the address you have was not correct and to please change. We assumed everything was fine until the Farm bureau of Florida did a check on our corporation and found out that we were no longer a corporation. After calling the Department of State I was told to submit our corporate application along with the original 150.00 and ask that you please reinstate us. We do not know where the address you have on record came from but as you can see its not even close to our address, never the less our CPA prepared an application for renewal for us and we sent the application in. We also show that our check to you is still outstanding.

We understand the law makes no provision for any extensions but we were told over the phone to write a letter and to ask for your understanding. We would have never let this thing get this far if we had known that you did not receive our 1999 Corporation Annual Report. Thanking you in Advance.

Sincerely,

Kim Cole
President
