RE: Application for Reinstatement of Corporation

Ms. Harris:

I sincerely apologize for the delay in filing for our incorporated papers. I had not realized we had not refiled as I had received no notification that it was due. Today on 10/30/00 I received the notice of administrative dissolution. Obviously, prior notification was never received at my office, due to the accountant that we had at that time, that was responsible for the set up our corporation. As he did not include a suite number on any of the corporate paper work. We have 16 suites in my complex and if there is no suite number the chances of it making to my company are slim to none. I truly lucked out to receive the notice of administrative dissolution or I would still be unaware of this problem, and judging by the date of this paperwork this has been floating around the post office for some time. This accountant was fired after 3 months for continually not doing what was promised and unfortunately he cost our company several thousand dollars, which was not easily afforded. I am hoping this explanation will allow us to pay the regular fee and not cost any additional to our company due to this accountants incompetence once again. I have supplied several copies for your review showing our corporate papers and other correspondence with our suite number.

I called the number supplied on this form and explained what had happened, I was told to write a check for the $150.00 and send it in with a written explanation. I hope you will be able to waive this additional fee for reincorporating this one time. Please note that I have made a notation to add our suite number on any additional correspondence. Your consideration is greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

Kim A. Byer
