To Whom It May Concern,

This letter is to request abatement of penalty of the above mentioned client. He came to me in April from his previous bookkeeper/secretary after it was determined she was misplacing money that was coming into the company. When he went in to get all his paperwork to bring to me his annual report was not in the box. We were under the impression she filed the report already. It wasn't determined she hadn't filed the report until he received the second notice. There was a lot of hard feelings when he left and we believe she figured this would be a way she could try to get back at him. I've since explained the importance of him knowing what was going on in his company and not to solely rely on someone else to take care of everything in his business. He even needs to check behind me. Please take this matter into consideration.

Thank you,

Lisa Wiggins
