Dear Madam/Sir,

I know that ignorance is not an excuse, but I admit to my surprise when I opened the 1999 Profit Corporation Annual Report and realized I owed $550.00 because I hadn't made a $150.00 payment by an earlier date.

I checked with your office this morning and was told that in fact a notice had been sent to me sometime in January, but I either didn't get, or if I did get, I simply didn't realize what it was all about and threw it away. My company DMC Services Inc was established only last September and admittedly has been a crash course in business fundamentals and how expensive Lawyers are.

DMC Services is a start-up Mom and Pop business that asks if there is a way to avoid the rather substantial $400.00 late fee imposed because of my ignorance of what I should have done. I have enclosed a check for the original amount of $150.00 in hopes something can be worked out in our favor. If however, there is no other remedy but to pay the remaining late fee, have someone from your office call me at 407-480-6080 or write to us at our business address you have on file. Yes, the first years can be frustrating, but we want to continue with DMC Services.

Thanks in advance for your understanding.

Sincerely,

Mike Hahle
