Dear Mr. Mann:

Enclosed please find an annual report , a check and related correspondence. I work closely with Barrett Johnson on many clients and he suggested I contact you concerning this client. He established a new corporation last year. He apparently did not file his annual report. His corporate mailing address is his home. At the time these were originally mailed he had several family members living in his house while they were building their new home. He did not find the original report until he received the second notice early this summer.

He became ill and found out he has a congenital heart defect and has been in and out of doctors offices and hospitals this summer. He asked me to write a letter to see if something could be done about the late fee. Your department has always been very understanding of these mistakes. I even went down to your office and talked to someone at the desk. She did not want to hear any excuses. He is trying to sell the corporation and would like to be reinstated.

I am asking you to take this into consideration to have my client's corporation reinstated.

Thank you for your attention into this matter.

Please give me a call if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Christopher B. Brooks
Certified Public Accountant
