To Whom it May Concern;

I am writing in regards to my 2001 UBR. Per one of your customer service reps, they advised that I write this letter.

Unfortunately, this got lost in a stack of papers on my desk, and I did not get this sent in on time. Your rep suggested I send a letter stating the details & asking that I could pay the $150, instead of the $550. There is no outrageous reason, other than the simple truth. I put it aside and forgot it. The truth is always the best, right?

At any rate, I am asking for, begging for, if you will, mercy in this instance. I am forwarding the $150, hoping that it will be sufficient. If not, or if you should have any questions in regards to my organizational skills, please contact me.

Thanking you in advance for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Kelli Frith
Sec/ VP
