Mr. Tyrone Scott

July 20, 2001

Dear Mr. Scott:

I just finished speaking with you on the phone regarding my FEI number that I have yet to apply for from IRS. As per our conversation, the reason I have not applied for the FEI number with the IRS is an internal problem with the IRS that has yet to be clear up. It will be cleared up, and my FEI number applied for, as soon as I get a new corporate attorney, and account executive, that I can trust, and will work on behalf of my company and not play games as others have that have accomplished nothing, and will accomplish nothing, but waste more time.

As soon as I have those matters solidified, and people, I will file for my FEI number with the IRS and forward to your office a copy of that FEI number for your records. At present my Florida corporation does exist, yet is inactive. I will abide by your request of filing the business report, and sending my annual fee, as required by your office. Hopefully, it won't be long until this problem is resolved.

Also, enclosed with this letter are copies of the letter I received from your office today, as well as my certificate I paid for when I sent your office my annual business report back in April.

I trust you, and your office, to advise me of any irregulars that I might do, and the opportunity to explain the circumstances that create those irregulars without paying an additional fee, or $ 600.00 reinstatement. I thank you for you time and understanding in this important matter.

Kind Regards,

William H. Bowman
