Re: Document # P99000063983

To Whom It May Concern;

I am writing this letter in hope that I may be able to resolve a problem that has occurred due to my trust in an employee who was responsible for the paperwork that arrived in my office. In August I discovered several checks were missing and after speaking with the bank they had been cashed with a forged signature of mine. It turned out that the person who had committed this crime was my trusted employee for the last two years. Her job was to keep track of all the paperwork as it arrived and write the checks for the appropriate bills. Then I would sign the checks and they were on their way to their destination (hopefully on time). The problem I have just discovered was that she just filed many of the things that should have been dealt with immediately. I now am in a financial bind due to this situation. I cannot afford this kind of thing to happen. I had no idea that these papers had arrived at all. I now have realized that I can't trust anyone but myself from now on. I have enclosed the check for $150.00 to pay for my renewal fee, and I am hopeful you may be able to waive the penalty this one time, as I won't let this happen again. Unfortunately I have another corporation with this one that I must request the same consideration with. This corporation was formed last year when I bought this old boarded up building in Miami with the hopes of finding some tenants and fixing it up. The building is still boarded up and I've been struggling to pay the mortgage every month, the taxes, the insurance, and all the rest of the expenses too. I hope you will consider my request and help me this one time.

Thank you,

Sincerely,

 President

Jeffrey A. Hoffman
