I am sending this letter in hope of clearing up an online payment mistake made back in January for our Uniform Business Report. I filed the report online back in January and as proof, I printed off the attached page which I thought was my confirmation page showing it was paid since it had all my information on it. I then filed it away and paid no further attention to it until I recently received another packet saying I owed more money because we did not file on time.

I am enclosing a check for the original amount, as the person I spoke with last week on the phone asked me to do to meet the original filing requirements. If you look at the attached print out off of your website, the pay now button is placed "below the crease" of my screen so I would not have any way of knowing that this was not my final step, and as I explained above, since I believed I was done, I had no reason to check my bills to see that it was indeed deducted. Thank you for your understanding in this matter. Might I suggest in the future to avoid confusion with other customers, you write in capital letters at the top of this second page of the form that "this is not a confirmation, please review and go on to next step".

Sincerely,

Sandra M. Barrett
