Dear Sir/Madam:

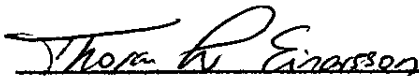

My sister and I opened our restaurant/pub, The Frosty Mug, in December of 2000. It is our first venture in the restaurant business. Our accountant, Mr. John Rice, handles our records and has just finished preparing our 2000 tax records. While reviewing those records, he informed us that we should have received a letter from you approximately 2 months ago, instructing us to pay a fee of $150.00. We never received that letter and were totally unaware of this fee. He tells us that there now is an additional fee for late filing, that it now totals $550.00.

I can assure you that had we received that letter, we would have payed that $150.00 fee promptly, as we do all other fees and renewals we are required to pay.

Having to pay additional late fee of $400.00 devastates our small new business financially at this point. I am sending you the original $150.00 in hopes that you will take in to consideration the fact that we never received said letter and that you will wave the late fee.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Thora L. Einarsson

President
