3B. Common Stock Series: Voting And Dissolution Rights Of Common And Other Stock.

3B(1) Common Stock Rights In General. Common Shares shall have all of the proprietary interests in the corporation, nonexclusively including all rights as to voting, dividends, and assets, except as expressly provided to the contrary herein or by operation of law, and subject only to any preferences and rights expressly granted to any other class or series of securities.

3B(2) Voting Rights. See "Certain Terms Of Shares", Section 3A(4) herein. Also, the Board of Directors may redesignate the title of any class or series of any outstanding or unissued securities in a distinguishable manner from every other class or series, by amendment hereto. The Board of Directors may or may not require or permit replacement of any securities certificates to show the new designation at any time other than upon transfer, subdivision or consolidation of holdings, upon which events replacement shall be required.

3D. Stock Repurchase Provisions

3D(1) Voluntary Or Mandatory Redemption. As to every share of stock including the initial shares issued, the Board of Directors shall approve prompt repurchase thereof upon written request of the holder thereof or on the Board's own motion.

3D(2) 20% Per Year Redemption Limit. Unless otherwise mutually agreed in a writing signed by a shareholder and the corporation, or unless the Board of Directors shall otherwise determine, such repurchase shall be limited to an aggregate of TWENTY PERCENT (20%) of the outstanding stock on January 1 each year. The annual 20% allocation shall first be made available pro rata as to all shares as to which a written notice of redemption is actually received from shareholders during January of a given year. Any remainder shall be available for repurchases thereafter initiated by notice(s) actually received from the Board or shareholders, on a first come, first serve basis, beginning at the opening of business on the first regular business day in February.

3D(3) Redemption Price Determination.

3D(3)(A) General Redemption Price Terms. Such repurchase shall be at the current fair market value of the stock as a pro rata percentage of the total value of the corporation. Such value shall be determined by good faith agreement or else will be the average of values reported by up to three (3) independent professional appraisers, one each chosen and paid, respectively, by the holder, the corporation, and the third to be chosen by both appraisers (if chosen), and paid equally by the holder and the corporation. Nevertheless, any lower redemption call price available to the corporation which has been established as to a particular class or series of stock shall prevail, in order to avoid waste of corporate assets.

3D(3)(B) Redemption Price Minimum And Time Restrictions. In no event shall shareholders be paid a redemption price less than any minimum redemption price specified in a document pursuant to which they acquired their shares, even if such redemption price exceeds fair market value at any time, so long as such redemption price does not exceed two hundred percent (200%, or double) the fair market value of consideration received by the corporation for such shares, when received.

By terms specified in a document pursuant to which shareholders acquired their shares, redemption may be conditioned upon some occurrence or passage of time, but in no event may such delay prevent redemption hereunder beyond sixty (60) months from the date consideration is received (assuming the consideration is only subject to normal collection, such as regular payment on a check or other instrument of consideration).

3D(4) Redemption Effective Upon Mailing Payment. Repurchase is effective for all purposes upon the sending of (A) the repurchase price in cash (deemed to include a check immediately collectible in funds local to the principal corporate office) by postpaid mail and (B) notice thereof sent by separate postpaid mailed envelope. Each such mailing shall be sent to the last known address of record of the shareholder (with a duplicate notice to any different known address). Each mailing shall be receipted with evidence of deposit thereof. Each mailing shall be sent by U.S. Mail or by any other national commercial delivery service giving evidence of deposit for delivery. Such forms of mailing are collectively referred to as "Deposit Receipt Mailing". Any payment returned for any reason shall be deposited promptly with a bank, trust company, or other financial institution upon an irrevocable obligation to pay the former shareholder the redemption price upon surrender of the shares, and to remit the interest back to the corporation except to the extent otherwise agreed.

3D(5) Payment By Promissory Note Issuance. However, if readily available cash does not permit full payment in cash, payment may be made by issuance of a one-seventh cash down payment and a promissory note payable without interest in six equal monthly installments. Such note shall be secured by all the stock. The certificate (or any other tangible evidence of rights) to the stock shall be held by an attorney at law as escrow agent, who is named by the corporation. The corporation shall instruct the transfer agent not to register any transfer thereof except by the escrow agent or by mutual agreement signed by the shareholder and the corporation.

3D(6) Redemption Rescindable For Default Under Note. At the shareholder's option, such repurchase may be rescinded in its entirety or as to the unpaid portion thereof, upon the corporation's default under such a promissory note uncured for fourteen (14) days following the shareholder's sending of a sworn notice of default to the corporation by certified mail, return receipt requested, or by another form of Deposit Receipt Mailing, with provision also made for delivery receipt. Such option may be exercised by, and shall be effective upon, such sending of notice of rescission. If monies actually received are not returned with the notice of rescission, then rescission shall be deemed to be exercised only as to unpaid shares.

3D(7) No Prejudicial Effects On Voting Or Others Rights Until Note Is Paid. until any such repurchase note is paid in full, or a partial or complete rescission is effected on the corporation's books, no action shall be taken or permitted which is or would be dilutive to any extent or otherwise materially prejudicial to the selling shareholder's voting power or other rights in the event a rescission should occur, except that remaining shareholders may duly replace directors (and directors may duly replace officers), all without cause.
