The figure consists of two horizontal timelines. The left timeline is labeled 'Control' and has a single point labeled '1'. The right timeline is labeled 'Experimental' and has two points labeled '1' and '2'. Above the timelines, there are labels for 'Stimulus' and 'Response'.

Acidophiles

The diagram illustrates the experimental design. It shows a sequence of events: a stimulus is presented (a bar chart with a peak), a response is recorded (a bar chart with a peak), and feedback is provided (a bar chart with a peak). This sequence is repeated for multiple trials. The diagram is labeled with 'Stimulus', 'Response', and 'Feedback'.
