COSTA RICA...

Costa Rica is known as an Oasis of Peace, and for very good reason. Locals, referred to as "Ticos", are warm and friendly people with an adult literacy rate of 93%! The land is a tropical paradise rich with rare and colorful birds, iguanas and exotic species.

At Worldwide Surfing Adventures we only do one thing: we send surfers and their families on adventures. Why do we feel qualified to do this? Because we travel with our families to these destinations and research all our information first hand, not compile it from what someone told someone else. Our data is current and exact and we are in constant contact with our agents in Costa Rica to give you the most up to date information available.

Travelers experience the wonders of deserted beaches with epic surf, whitewater rapids and monkeys swinging in trees overhead. We'll even direct you to hidden waterfalls where you'll swear you're in Eden!

The city of San Jose is a bustling metropolis of busy business people, complete with night life and gambling. You'll want to shop there.

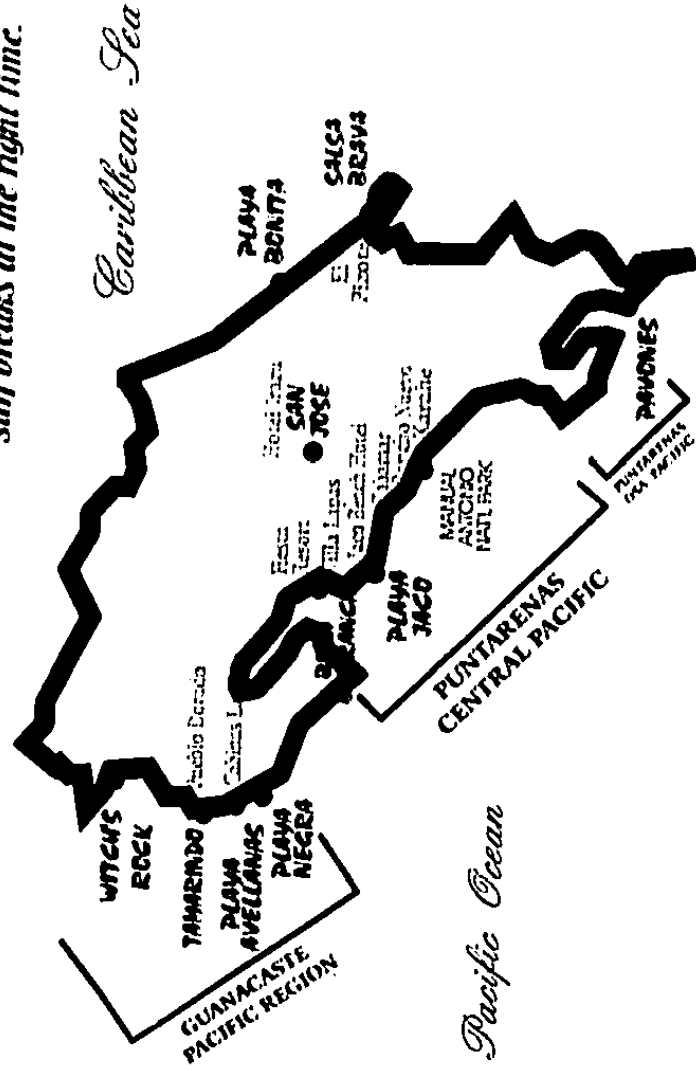

Each small town is unique with its own church and soccer field and beach communities line the Pacific and Caribbean coasts. On the Pacific coast, you'll find a wide variety of surf breaks ranging from the longest left break in the world at Pavones which breaks up to 3/4 of a mile long, to the perfection of a right point break at Potrero Grande, also known as Oil's Point, with many undiscovered beach breaks and river mouths in between. The Caribbean coast offers some of the best breaks in the country. Puerto Viejo has probably the most powerful and hollow wave in Costa Rica. It is compared as a definite Hawaiian-style wave. Likewise, Playa Bonita and Isla Uvita are world class reef breaks and are not for the beginner!
