Dr. Katherine Dodds, a 1988 graduate of the University of Florida College of Veterinary Medicine, is primarily a small animal practitioner with a special interest in feline medicine and surgery. She is a member of the Phi Zeta Veterinary Honor Society. In addition to her numerous pets, Dr. Dodds and her husband (Dr. Sheldon) have 3 children; she likes to spend her spare time playing tennis, biking, and boating.

Dr. Stephen Sheldon, a 1986 graduate of the University of Florida College of Veterinary Medicine, is also a small animal practitioner. Dr. Sheldon is the 1998 president of the South Florida Veterinary Medical Association and a member of the Veterinary Cancer Society. When away from the office you might find him on his bike, out boating, on a golf course, or just outside playing with his and Dr. Dodds' 3 children.

Dr. Marta Sanchez joined the practice in 1997. Her studies were done at the University of Tuskegee College of Veterinary Medicine, graduating in 1994. She is also a Phi Zeta Veterinary Honor Society member and has an interest in orthopedic surgery, ferrets, and geriatric medicine. She lives in Kendall with her son Gustavo-Gabriel and her pets. Her hobbies include boating (seems our doctors like to boat), going to the beach, and fitness activities.

Our Doctors are committed to excellence in medicine and continuing education. They are computer linked to Cornell University, Veterinary Information Network and other online programs. The office is equipped with computer assisted diagnostic software from Advanced Veterinary Systems as well as the latest software from National Veterinary Conferences.

They are members of the following professional organizations: American Veterinary Medical Association, South Florida Veterinary Medical Association, Florida Veterinary Medical Association, American Animal Hospital Association, Cornell Feline Health Center, American Association of Feline Practitioners, and the Veterinary Cancer Society.

In addition to participating in career days at the local schools and sponsoring optimist sports programs they perform volunteer work for the following organizations: Adopt-a-Pet, The Cat Network, Animal Care and Education Society, and Friends of Animals.
